

Vera Anna Matty Celebrated for Dedication to the Fields of Writing and Reading

Ms. Matty is currently working on a book about creating happier lives

ELIZABETH, NJ, March 24, 2020 Vera Matty has been included in Marquis Who's Who. As in all Marquis Who's Who biographical volumes, individuals profiled are selected on the basis of current reference value. Factors such as position, noteworthy accomplishments, visibility, and prominence in a field are all taken into account during the selection process.

A born humanitarian, Ms. Matty is currently self-employed, devoting her time and attention to writing a book about creating happier lives, which she plans to publish in the near future. Previously, she worked as an advocacy and communications officer for the Office of the United Nations Special Coordinator for Middle East Peace Process for two years. Even though her career has been filled with highlights, her most notable achievement was speaking before the United Nations regarding the attacks on September 11, 2001. After the attacks, she volunteered with the New York Unemployment Project. She also tried to convince senators to pass bills, help the injured and homeless, the injured and unemployed in the USA and start repairs. Senator Ted Kennedy, Secretary Clinton and president of the Unemployment Project, Mr. Rosen, chose her to be a speaker in the U.S. Senate in Washington, D.C. Her presentation was well accepted. The Senate approved all the bills. It was a great success. The president of U.S. Steel and all others were very happy.

Before her tenure with the United Nations, Ms. Matty gained valuable expertise in the field as the assistant to the president of the New York Unemployment Project and as the vice president of Charles Rutenberg Realty between 2007 and 2011. During the earliest years of her career, she excelled as the executive assistant to the chief executive officer of BMG Entertainment from 1993 until 2002. Dedicated to her community, Ms. Matty contributes to those in need through her church as a volunteer.

Prior to entering the field, Ms. Matty obtained a Bachelor of Science in English from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and a Master of Arts from Arizona State University, where she later returned to pursue a doctoral degree, earning an ABD (all but dissertation). Ms. Matty has studied nine languages throughout her life. In recognition of her outstanding achievements, she was presented with a Painting Award from an International Exhibition in Europe in 1986 and Humanitarian Awards in 2003 and 2013. Looking toward the future, Ms. Matty hopes to accrue the Nobel Prize for her upcoming book.
